Oregon Farm Bureau welcomes two new employees

Salem – Oregon Farm Bureau announces two new additions to its staff: Gail Greenman, National Affairs and Grassroots Specialist, and Amber Hop, Regional Coordinator.

Gail Greenman has joined OFB as its National Affairs and Grassroots Specialist. She will serve as a liaison to Washington D.C.-based legislators and agencies, as well as coordinate Farm Bureau member mobilization efforts at the state and county levels.

Gail has served as the director of governmental affairs for the National Association of Federally Impacted Schools in Washington, D.C. She brings a wealth of Capitol Hill experience and expertise in federal government relations, and more than a decade of work within a membership-based advocacy organization.

Amber Hop is Farm Bureau's new Regional Coordinator. As a Regional Coordinator, Amber will represent the OFB state office for the following county Farm Bureaus: Benton, Clatsop, Crook-Wheeler, Deschutes, Jefferson, Lincoln, Linn, Polk, and Tillamook Counties. She also will work closely with the Young Farmers & Ranchers program.

Amber has worked as a sales rep for Fisher Implement and Land O Lakes as a commodity merchandiser for all dairies in Oregon and Washington. She grew up on a dairy near McMinnville and offers great experience, energy, and knowledge of the industry.

Both Gail and Amber can be reached at the Oregon Farm Bureau office in Salem at (503) 399-1701.

Oregon Farm Bureau is Oregon's largest agricultural advocacy organization. Founded as a statewide voluntary membership organization in 1932 and with county roots dating to 1919, Oregon Farm Bureau today represents more than 8,500 Oregon farm and ranch families.
